

Chief Grady Accepts Crime Prevention Books

Presenting advanced copies of the new booklet entitled "Guardians of Your Property and Welfare" which is being distributed to all residents of Agawam. Peter Wagner, General Manager of the Hood Milk Company (right), is shown with Chief of Police, R. Kenneth Grady. Chief Grady extended the highest praise for these crime prevention booklets published by the Hood Milk Company which are characterized as an educational facility and as a deterrent to crime. The booklets are to be distributed door-to-door by uniformed policemen.

What should one do to prevent a crime and what action should be taken when a crime has been committed?

These are good questions, and the quick and easy answer would be to call the police. That is part of the answer, but far from all—life would be wonderful if you could resolve it that easily.

As a practical matter, the problem is somewhat more complicated, but until now few have done anything about it. However, Agawam Chief of Police R. Kenneth Grady, and the H. P. Hood & Sons joined together this week to issue to all Agawam residents a brochure that is one of the most unusual civic publications in recent years.

Entitled "Guardians of Your Property and Welfare," it lists a score of things to do and not to do that should be of value to the householder.

Given an advance copy of the booklet, Walter T. Kerr, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, characterized it as "among the finest examples of cooperative community service in a long time." I congratulate the Hood Milk Company," he said, "on taking the initiative to sponsor an innovation of this kind. In my opinion it is an encouraging development that an industry makes such a direct contribution to the welfare of the citizens of the community."

Accordion Concert Benefit Retarded

The Tenth Annual Concert by the Accordion Mart students will be presented Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the West Springfield High School Auditorium. The proceeds of the program, which is co-sponsored by the local retarded children's association and Dominic Lisandri, proprietor of the Accordion Mart Studios, will be used to continue services to the retarded in Hampden County.

Ten bands will be performing with Carmen Carrozza, accordion virtuoso as the featured guest. Mr. Carrozza has presented a concert at Town Hall in New York, and was the first accordionist to perform with the Boston Sympathy Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur Fielder, and the first to perform a complete program of works written expressly for the accordion.

Also on hand to display their talents will be the Accordionaires recording orchestra. This fine group recently cut a record whose proceeds were also turned over to help retarded children. They were awarded a first prize trophy in the Massachusetts state contest held at the Brockton Fair in 1962, and have made many appearances on radio and television.

Frank McInerney, superintendent of the Granby schools and local television sports director will serve as master of ceremonies for the program which is directed by Mrs. Jayne M. Slate. Tickets are $1.25 and are available from members of the Hampden County Association for Retarded Children, Accordion Mart Studios or may be purchased at the door.

Ascension Services Today At St. Davids

Today the parishioners of St. David's Episcopal Church, will gather for the Ascension Day services. A Communion breakfast will be served in the parish hall immediately following the 6:30 a.m. service.

The annual observance of this Red-Letter day in the church calendar year is preceded by the three Rogation days of special prayer and petition. The Biblical account of the ending of Jesus' earthly ministry is symbolized by the extinguishing of the Paschal candle after the reading of the Ascension Day Gospel.

This service will take on added meaning for members of the parish in that those Confirmed by the Bishop on Sunday last, will be making their first Communion. The Communion breakfast is especially provided for the youth of the parish attending the service.

Other services for this day are at 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Valley Church Plans Program For Year

The Valley Community Church held its first annual meeting Sunday afternoon at the Granger School in Feeding Hills and elected five officers, three Boards and six Committees to carry on its work for the next twelve months.

John J. Wiley, Jr. presided as Moderator and asked for reports from the Treasurer, John S. Cesan, from the Clerk, Mrs. Carmelina MacPherson and from the Finance Committee which acted as a temporary fiscal group in the past few months. Reports were also given by the Friendly Circle through Mrs. Ellen Nichols, president; the Church School, Charles Provenzano, superintendent and the Youth Organization Gilbert Bowden, director.

The Church voted to identify itself with the Agawam Church Federation, the Council of Churches of Greater Springfield, and the National Council of Community Church in Columbus, Ohio. It voted also to extend and invitation to Dr. Porter, the executive head of the National Council to preach at the Church some time during the month of June.

Plans for an intensive summer program at the Church Camp property in Becket were outlined and considerable time was given to the building of a Church structure in the Fall on property that has been donated to the Church. It is expected that an intensive financial campaign will be undertaken soon after Labor Day to raise the funds for a building. The spirit of the meeting was unanimous for the Church's own headquarters.

Officers elected are: Moderator, John J. Wiley, Jr.; Clerk, Mrs. Carmelina MacPherson; Treasurer, John S. Cesan; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Hazel M. Prior and Superintendent Church, School, Charles Provenzano.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING, 1861

By Edith LaFrancis

Although at first divided on the subject of support for the Civil War, Agawam voters soon got together to provide their share. From the town report of 1861:-

To Samuel Palmer, one of the petitioners, "whereas Hinsdale Smith and 12 other legal voters of the town of Agawam have made application to me, Charles C. Wright, a justice of the peace for the County of Hampden, showing that the Selectmen of said town have unreasonably refused to call a meeting of the inhabitants of said town qualified to vote in town affairs, and such appearing to me to be the case, you are hereby directed to summons the inhabitants of said town of Agawam, qualified to vote in town affairs to assemble at Bodurtha's Hall in the parish of Agawam on Saturday the fourth day of May, 1861, at one o'clock in the afternoon to act on the following articles, by posting up attached copies of this warrant at each of the meeting houses in said town seven days at least before the time of holding said meeting.

Article 1—To choose a moderator.

Article 2—To see if the town will raise and appropriate such sums of money as may be deemed competent to support the families of those who volunteer from this town as volunteer soldiers to aid the Federal Government to suppress the existing rebellion and to defend its property.

Article 3—To see if the town will raise and appropriate any sum of money to arm and equip such volunteers and furnish them a suitable uniform.

Article 4—To see if the town will adopt such measures as will most speedily and effectually carry into affect the above articles."

The meeting was held as specified, Newbury Norton chosen moderator. Joseph Parsons moved that the town treasurer be authorized to borrow such sums of money as may be necessary under article 2 not to exceed $2000. Forty-six voted for this and 25 against.

On article 3, it was voted the town treasurer be "authorized to borrow such sums of money as may be needed for furnishing arms, equipment and uniforms for volunteers not to exceed $500. Samuel Palmer moved that a committee of seven be chosen who "shall be and are hereby authorized to expend the money as they shall deem best for the purpose for which the money has been voted and the town treasurer is hereby instructed on the order of said committee to pay such sums as they shall expend."

Committee chosen by ballot:- Joseph Parsons, Newbury Norton, Barnabas Cooley, S. H. Bodurtha, Arron Wheeler, O. H. Adams, S. Palmer.

Convinced of the urgency of the cause, voters appropriated further funds in 1862, $200 for aid to families of volunteers, a bonus of $100 to each volunteer to the number of 17, and a payment of $200 to men signed up for 9 months.

Agawam provided 172 men, which was 10 more than their quota. Of these, 22 were killed or died of disease. Helen Wolcott joined as nurse in the 10th regiment hospital and other women of the town made bandages, underwear and raised money to the amount of $1000.

There are about 70 Civil War veterans buried in Agawam to be remembered with grave markers and services on Memorial Day.

Roland C. Reed, former Chief of Police, said: "In my opinion the booklet represents a distinct step forward in the field of cooperative community relations."

"The idea of presenting the Police Department as guardians of your property and welfare strikes a new note of favorable interpretation. It presents these officers of the law in the light of friendly individuals who are sincerely and seriously concerned with the safety and welfare of those whom they are sworn to guard and protect. Too often, unfortunately, police officers and officials are regarded as restraining or suppressive agencies; this booklet puts them in an entirely new light, one that should redound to the advantage of all concerned."

Valuable Information

How can the citizen cooperate in crime prevention? That is the first question asked in this new brochure, and the answers are both simple and obvious: telephone police headquarters, tell the story, give identification, cover all possible facts, and do it fast.

The booklet goes on to suggest to householders that when going out for the evening that they leave a light burning in the house, that they leave window shades up, double lock doors, do not leave a key under the door mat or a note indicating time of return and be sure to close garage doors.

Vacationers who go out of town for an extended period "Guardians" tells us, should not have newspapers publish the fact of absence or have them delivered while away, the milkman should stop deliveries, the police should be notified of the period of absence and valuables should be stored in a safe place.

This interesting and valuable booklet goes into considerable details with underlying reasons and deals with a number of related subjects, among which are the types of door locks, window fastenings, juvenile delinquency, and the citizen's duty to prosecute offenders.

Supt. Foote Reports DPW Progress

In order to keep the citizens of Agawam more fully informed as to current and proposed work, Armand Foote, superintendent of the Department of Public Works intends to periodically give a report on work done by this department.

To bring progress up to date, since the first of spring, the department has been scraping and patching roads. Due to the severe winter and lack of drainage on many of the streets, there are many potholes to be patched and are still being patched. We are, however, catching up on that work and with new drainage to be installed on many of the streets this year, together with proposed surface treatments, we hope to cure many of the trouble spots.

Our spring clean-up proved a success not only to the people who were able to remove a lot of debris and rubbish, but also helped to eliminate fire and health hazards.

As voted at Town Meeting, we are currently installing sewer and water pipe on Prospect Street which will be resurfaced when that phase of the work is complete. The new water line on Liberty Street is also currently being installed. Our plans for the South Westfield Street Sanitary Sewer are 90 per cent complete, and it will be put out to bid shortly. The plans for the North Westfield Street Sidewalk are nearing completion. The Highland Street Surface Drainage will also be installed this month.

Other articles voted at Town Meeting will be done during the month of June. We will shortly be putting on dust layer on gravel roads and surface treatments on others. A notice will be posted in the paper prior to surface treating, naming those streets to be treated. All streets are now in the process of being swept, the main streets being done first, to be followed by the side streets.

Since the first of the year our Water and Sewer Departments have been very busy with new installations and repairs. They made twenty-seven new water connections and repaired nine water breaks. The Sewer Department has installed twenty-four new connections and opened forty-six plugged sewers.

Most of the new trucks and equipment voted at Town Meeting have been delivered and the department wishes to express its gratitude to the Town Meeting members for their support on this necessary equipment.

Winter Postscript

An ingenious school teacher from Rochester, N.Y., feared her charges would be frostbitten when they went out into the sub-zero weather last winter. She fashioned face masks of aluminum foil for the youngsters, making slits for their eyes and noses. Needless to say, aluminum's heat-retaining properties did the rest.

auction at the Legion Hall on June 15th. Co-chairmen Mrs. Anna Bissonnette and Mrs. Jane Whelan will take suitable articles donated by Agawam residents, or they may be left at the Legion Hall if an Auxiliary member is notified. Mr. Roland Ruel and Mr. Ralph Gaylord, local antique dealers and auctioneers, will conduct the sale.

Poppy Facts

Poppy containers are located in various stores and public buildings in Agawam for the month of May. The American Legion Auxiliary reports that wearing a poppy on Poppy Day will honor the more than half-million Americans who died and the nearly one-million wounded during both World Wars and the Korean Conflict.

The first memorial poppies distributed by the American Legion and Auxiliary were made of silk by French widows and war orphans. But poppy manufacturing was soon turned over to disabled veterans in this country. Hospitalized U. S. veterans in Minnesota produced the first poppies made here in 1922.

Over 125 Attend Girl State Tea At Post 185

Over 125 attended the Girl State Tea given by Mrs. Wilfred H. Bissonnette, District 3, Girl State chairman, recently in the American Legion Home on Springfield Street, Agawam. The Home was prettily decorated with giant daffodils in pointed cones painted yellow to match the flowers. Fresh and artificial flowers, pink and white, and yellow daffodils adorned the linen clad tables. The decorations were made by Mrs. Bissonnette and three floral arrangements were donated by Rayford Gardens of Agawam.

All delegates and alternates were invited to attend the tea to get acquainted before going to Bridgewater State College during June 14 through June 21. Also invited were the Mothers of the Girl Staters, Unit Presidents and Unit Girl State chairmen.

Among the guests invited to speak to the delegates were: Mrs. Mary Murrill, Girl State Department chairman; Mr. Frederick Dacey, Principal of Agawam High School, who assisted Unit 185 to make their selection; Cynthia Statkum, last year's Girl Stater; Frank Chriscola, Jr., Agawam Selectman; Joyce C. Petrin, District 2, Girl State chairman; Bernardston, Mass., and Mrs. Richardson, Head of Volunteer Services at Leeds Hospital.

A garden built of yellow giant daffodils with butterflys, African violets and green grass laid in center provided a lawn effect with flowers in small pots on the green decorated the refreshment table. Pouring from the gleaming silver service were: Mrs. Bissonnette, Belle Russell, executive board member, Gladys Catchepaugh, Unit Girl State chairman and Coral Bissonnette, Junior member.

Assorted refreshments were served, cookies, cake, tea sandwiches, date-nut, almond and banana breads, candy, tea and coffee. Assisting with refreshments were, Janet Cardinal, Unit 351 president, Margaret O'Brien, 275 Junior Department cochairman and Ann Lawlor, Post County Director.

Mrs. Bissonnette wishes to thank everyone who assisted in making the affair such a success.
